

March 1, 2017
FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
Contact: Lyndy Rutledge

Firefly Artisan Fair is Nashville's Newest Spotlight on Local Art

Nashville, TN: On Saturday, May 13th The Clay Lady's Campus will host a brand-new community arts event, Firefly Artisan Fair. This outdoor night market will feature local artisans, musicians and food trucks. Attendees will not only enjoy a unique shopping experience under the stars but will be invited to participate in a larger art experience. There will be an interactive art project, artist demonstrations, and an opportunity to explore our "Friends of Firefly" area, which offers information about Nashville's various art programs and organizations. Admission is FREE.

The firefly is an unassuming creature by day, but at night its gift of light transforms the darkness into something beautiful. Firefly Artisan Fair is based on the belief that art does the same—it illuminates and transforms both those who make and those who experience it. This one-night event is a celebration of the artistic "light" inside everyone, an opportunity to support local artists as well as participate directly in the arts as a community. Firefly Artisan Fair is Nashville's night to shine as a diverse showing of its creatively-minded citizens.

The Clay Lady's Campus is a locally owned and operated art facility, encompassing galleries, private studios, educational programs, and events.

For additional information call 615-242-0346 or email events@theclaylady.com

Mission statement- To unite the arts community in Nashville and encourage participation in the arts.